Our Trip to Plymouth

In the morning we had our English lessons as usual from 8:45 am to 12:15pm. After that we went directly to Plymouth , a place you probably still know from your English textbooks.

The way to Plymouth took us a whole hour , but we enjoyed it because we knew that when we're in Plymouth , we perhaps will see Silky the seal.

When we arrived , our teacher gave us the task to take pictures of 5 sights that we remembered from Access 1 & 2.

The first thing we saw in Plymouth was obviously the wide sea (the right photo).

After an about 20 minutes walk , we finally reached the Plymouth Lighthouse, Smeaton's Tower, which you can see on the left picture.

All in all , Plymouth is a lovely city and we would visit it again if we had the chance to.

But we've been a little disappointed because Silky is dead or doesn't exist
