

Day 10

Exeter

Hey, we just realised that we only have one week left in England. But we still have so much more to explore. For example today we were in Exeter.

In the morning we had school and after school we went to Exeter by bus. It's a huge and beautiful city. It was really sunny. First we had time to buy some food so we went through the city. Later we met at St. Peter Cathedral and had a guided tour inside. The cathedral was really impressive because it was so huge and beautiful because of the colourful windows and the mosaic and marble floor. The history of the cathedral was exciting and interesting. At the end we had some free time again and we went shopping.

We think that everyone had a great time in Exeter and enjoyed it.
