

Day 15

London Sights

Today was our first day in London. We had to get used to this very big city. It felt strange but also exciting to stand at places we had only seen in our school books. First, we went to have breakfast. After that, we took the bus into the city. When we arrived, we went on a boat tour on the River Thames. From the boat, we saw Tower Bridge, the Tower of London, the London Eye and Big Ben. It was very impressive, even though it rained a little.

Then we took the underground to Piccadilly Circus and had a lunch break. We ate a burger at Burger King. After that, we looked at more sights. We visited the Houses of Parliament, Trafalgar Square and Westminster Abbey. We also saw an important statue at Waterloo Place that made us think.

Afterwards, we went by Underground to St Paul's Cathedral. We were lucky because we could go inside for free and watch a church service. It was very impressive, and the church was very big and beautiful inside.

At the end of the day, we went back to the hotel by underground. We still had some time to get something for dinner. Overall, it was a very nice day with many great sights that amazed us.
