

Day 6

Eden Project

Today we went to Eden Project in Cornwall which is a great place with vast gardens and a wide variety of plants and animals.

It took us two and a half hours from Torquay to Eden Project. It looked very impressive from the outside. We had a great day with many different impressions. At the end it was very rainy and cold. We thought the highlight of the day was the „playground“ in one of the houses where we all played together on those funny turning plates till we fell off them. Fortunately nobody was seriously hurt.

All in all it was a terrific and successful day with many highlights.
