

Day 10

Hello ladies and gentlemen, we hope you are doing well. Today we went to Exeter, the capital of Devon. We went there and had high expectations. Did we have the right ones? Read on!

At first we went to a place near Exeter Cathedral (St. Peter's Cathedral) and had some free time to explore the town. Our friends and us went to an interesting bookstore.

At 15:30 we went inside Exeter Cathedral and Mr. Adam gave us some explanations about special things. We liked the astronomical clock the most. After that we had a bit free time. Some went eating Sushi or some even just enjoyed the cathedral.

All in all we really enjoyed Exeter and Exeter Cathedral. Our Expectations were met, we were overwhelmed and really recommend Exeter because it is a quiet and small though interesting place.

Edward Stöckel, Jan-Erik Traute